

Professor George Dillman

George Dillman is the foremost authority on Tuite and Kyusho Jitsu (pressure point grappling and striking). His extensive research in nerve study has enabled him to present the theory behind pressure points in both Eastern and Western terminology.

This ability coupled with his dynamic teaching style has made Master Dillman one of the most sought after seminar instructors in the world!

This seminar is a must for anyone wishing to gain experience in pressure point grappling and striking. The basic session will be targeted to beginners in the study of pressure point techniques. The advanced session is open to beginners but will be targeted to those with more experience and training in Tuite and Kyusho concepts. The advanced session will also cover kata bunkai or breakdown.

LOCATION

Indiana State
Fairgrounds
1202 East 38th Street

Normandy Barn

The Normandy Barn is located on the Northeast side of the Fairgrounds. If you enter at the Main Gate on 38th Street you will drive around in either direction until you see the Normandy Barn to the North of the road.

*Note: There will be a $3 parking fee per car entering the Fairgrounds. I have adjusted the cost down $5 from previous years to allow for this change, so you're making $2.

Driving Directions: This is the easiest location in Indianapolis to find. Signs all over town are up to help you.
